1 GREAT ESCAPES—OCEANSCAPE YACHTS

The old saw is the two greatest days in a boater's life are when he buys and sells his yacht. But what if you could have the joys of boating without the headaches of ownership? That's the concept of OceanScape Yachts, sort of a NetJets or Uber for boatsmen. It brings the concept of the sharing economy to the high seas, making use of luxury yachts that would otherwise stand idle. From there, the club works to tailor your sea dream vacation. ## 2 GREEN SPEED—ZERO MOTORCYCLES

Zero Motorcycles, a premier maker of electric motorcycles in California, has improved its Zero DS dual road and dirt models for 2019. This year's edition comes with a dual-sport windscreen, tank grips and hand guards to go with its 116 lbs. of torque. A phone app syncs with the bike, allowing you to seamlessly change performance profiles when going from asphalt to dirt. The battery is now good for 163 miles (78 for highway), meaning you'll spend less time charging, and more time riding. zeromotorcycles.com

3 ABLE TABLES—11 RAVENS

The dream started with table tennis (see page 44) and soon moved on to billiards, poker and blackjack, shuffleboard and air hockey. The 11 Ravens concept was to eschew rickety ping-pong tables, suitable only for your basement rec room, and make sturdy gaming models better described as furniture. What has followed was a collection of modernistic designs (cantilevering is a frequent element), handcrafted out of scratch-resistant composite materials. Priced from $11,000 to $50,000, custom designs are available. 11ravens.com

4 LEGACY IN LEATHER—KORCHMAR

Naples, Florida, is home to Rocky Patel cigars, gorgeous beaches and a 100-year-old company making stunning leather goods in the United States. Korchmar began crafting leather visors for cars in 1917, and later moved into leather business cases. We are fond of its Twain weekender ($605), a 22-inch-long, full-grain leather bag with brass hardware, an interior lined in twill and outfitted with handy pockets. It's sturdy, stately and perfect for short trips as it's built to fit into an overhead bin, and to last. korchmar.com

5 POCKET ROCKETS—FALLONCUIR

Cigar cases need to be functional, but the best are also artistic statements. Among the exquisite pieces created by the craftsmen at Fallon of France, the EOLE Pocket Humidor stands out for its extravagance. Its brown buffalo leather exterior is enhanced with 23.75 karat gold. Inside is supple leather with a vibrant orange color. The smooth interior cuddles your cigar, and the tight seal retains humidity. The company's claim that it will keep a cigar humidified for one week withstood a test in our dry offices. 1,164 euro ($1,300). falloncuir.com

“It's not just about wearing something appropriate, a suit should make you stand tall and feel confident.” As a motto it may seem like a mouthful, but when Tony Lutwyche delivers on his sartorial promise it's a game changer. The London tailor's new New York City shop is really a gentleman's retreat that starts with a client assessment based on posture and personality and ends with a timely delivery endowed with the famous Lutwyche detailing.
